Franklin Electric Europe announces new website franklinwater.eu

Franklin Electric Europe is pleased to announce the launch of the new website franklinwater.eu which combines the complete product portfolio of the Franklin Electric Corporate brands. Starting 6th of February you can find all product details of Franklin Electric motors, Coverco motors as well as E-Tech and FPS pumping systems in a common source. Of course the new online presence also contains extensive information on control boxes and related accessories and also provides numerous useful documents and contact information in the service section.

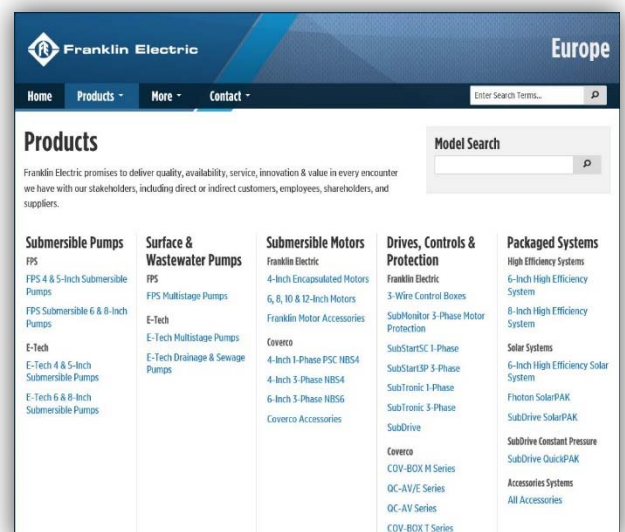

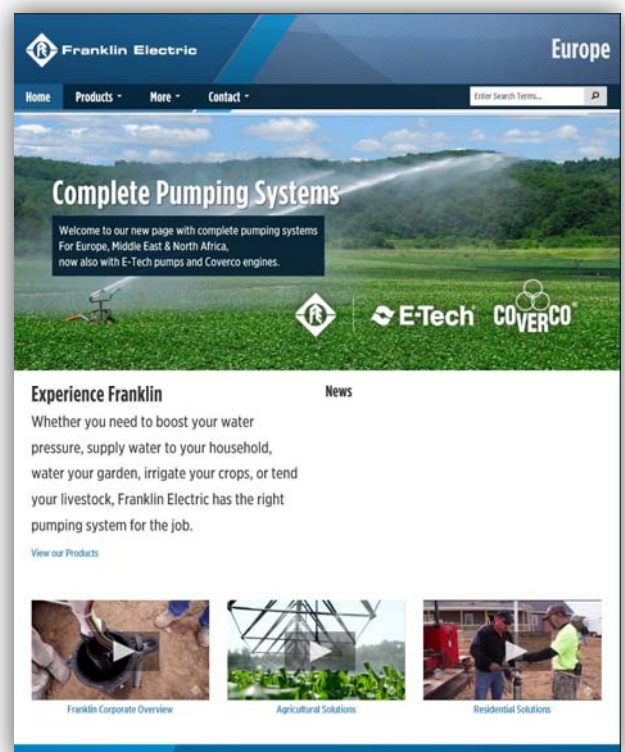

The website is launched in English, Italian and German language. Further languages will follow shortly.
